16 YEARS OF INNOVATION & FUN THROUGH THE ARTS

Welcome to the 16th Annual Terryglass Arts Festival

This year we have a very exciting programme of events which will take place over the five days of the festival.

The festival offers a variety of arts events, performances, visual arts experiences and as always the opportunity to let your creative side run free.

Festival Workshop Programme:

Let your creative side take over - Try something new!

The Terryglass Arts Festival is well known for its unique workshop programme which means you really can participate in the festival. Some of the most interesting and valuable experiences are the ones you don't expect! So go on, try one of the workshops - you won't be disappointed! For 2014, we offer a great range of experiences through our workshop programme whether you're 5 or 95! There is always a huge demand for the workshop programme so please be advised to BOOK EARLY.

TICKET BOOKING:

Tickets for main events including Jimmy MacCarthy, 4 In A Bar and The Year of the Moving Statues are on sale now and tickets for workshops go on sale from Monday 28th July. Tickets for Miriam Lambert Puppets and the Exploration Dome will be available at the door.

This year we are delighted to welcome Irish artists John Gerrard, Joy Gerrard and Ruth Castle. John Gerrard is a leading contemporary Irish artist who is best known for his sculptures which typically take the form of digital simulations displayed using real-time computer graphics. Joy Gerrard has exhibited in Dublin, Cork and London, as well as in galleries in Finland and the USA. Joy is a Tipperary born artist, based in London, who has had many exhibitions, and is well known for her art works made for public spaces. She has made 10 of these, all very large works over the last 10 years- and the next one will be installed in Borrisokane Community College. Ruth Castle is an Irish born artist now living in the north of England with a background in craft, painting and sculpture. We are delighted to have such renowned artists at the Terryglass Arts Festival.

Online Booking:- www.terryglassartsfestival.ie

Tickets for all events, including workshops, can be purchased online.

Phone Booking: 087-2181663 The Festival Box Office is located at the Village Hall in Terryglass. Pre-booked tickets can be collected at the Festival Box Office by arrangement. Pre-booked tickets must be paid for in full and collected within 48 hours of booking, otherwise tickets will be resold.

In person: Tickets for evening events are available to purchase at The Derg Inn Shop in Terryglass.

At Venues: We would advise advance booking to avoid disappointment; however, if tickets remain available, tickets will be on sale at the door of the venue 30 minutes prior to the performance.

Tickets can be purchased online or by phone booking until Tuesday 12th August at 5.00pm. Remainder of tickets not sold will then go on sale from Thursday 14th August at 10am at the Festival Box Office.

The festival is organised by a small voluntary committee which works enthusiastically all year round to make each festival bigger and better and it has now become an established event on the Irish arts festivals calendar, with a loyal and discerning following travelling from near and far to enjoy.

We would like to thank everybody who contributed to this year's programme and in turn we would ask people to support our sponsors without whom this event would not take place.

This year, the festival will feature music, drama, visual arts, street theatre, creative workshops and much more. The festival is a celebration of the arts, creativity, talent, inspiration and enjoyment and has something to offer all ages and interests.

The festival opens on Wednesday evening with a wonderful evening of song performed by 4 In A Bar, Ireland's leading male voice harmony group and holders of the Best Irish Barbershop Award.

The Gala Concert in the church this year is An Evening with Jimmy MacCarthy, one of Ireland's foremost songwriters. Jimmy has written some of the most well-known songs in the Irish folk and contemporary repertoire such as 'No Frontiers', 'Missing you', 'Ride On', 'Katie', 'The Bright Blue Rose' and many more.

There really is something for everybody at the Terryglass Arts Festival ranging from workshops to visual arts to live music in the village. Please note that we have on-line booking for most events so don't forget to book early to avoid disappointment.

We look forward to seeing you in Terryglass, Co. Tipperary – Arts for Life / Na hEalaíona Feadh Saol.

Visual Arts at Festival 2014

John Gerrard – “Daylight Fan (Orbital Camera) 2009”

Riverrun Cottages

Opening Hours – 11.00am –

5.00pm daily

Adm: Free

John Gerrard (1974) is a leading contemporary Irish artist, working internationally; best known for his sculptures that typically take the form of digital simulations displayed using real-time computer graphics. He received a BFA from Oxford University in 1997 and an MFA from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago in 2000.

He has exhibited at La Biennale di Venezia, Italy (2009) and most recently at Borusan Contemporary, Istanbul, Turkey and Screenspace, Melbourne, Australia.

Gerrard's piece, Daylight Fan (Orbital Camera), is a small-scale virtual sculpture. A silver fan is placed on the floor of an elegant white room, which we later discover to be a reconstructed interior from the famous Wittgenstein house in Vienna. Unlike other recent works of Gerrard's where the observer is allowed to manipulate and look around the virtual scene, in “Daylight Fan” one must wait patiently to witness the work's full unfolding. Programmed to run only during the hours of daylight, the fan's movement is captured by a camera, which orbits slowly around it. A complete 360 degree revolution takes a full 24 hours, corresponding to the speed of the earth's turn.

The piece has a curiously meditative quality, reminiscent of the artist's oil pump works. Its simplicity masks a complex meditation on power, energy, exchange and sustainability.

Joy Gerrard – “Permanent Rainbow” (macquette)

Terryglass Quay
Adm: Free

Joy Gerrard grew up in Coolbawn, North Tipperary. She attended the National College of Art in Dublin and has postgraduate degrees from the Royal College of Art in London. She has exhibited in Dublin, Cork and London, as well as in galleries in Finland and the USA. Commissions include works for Cork University Hospital, Galway City Museum and a number of public and privately commissioned works in London. She was awarded a Visual Arts Bursary from The Arts Council of Ireland in 2011/12.

Permanent Rainbow

Lough Derg is an enormous and beautiful body of water. When considering a site - specific work for the lake shore, Joy imagined a series of fantastical art pieces which included a bridge that spanned the lake, a bench that floated on the surface of the water and an intricate floating flower garden. These are large scale, creative, exciting proposals and ideas, which can only exist, for the moment, as ‘speculative architecture’- like the 1960's group ‘Archigram’ who proposed an enormous floating city, and a metropolis on wheels. These buildings were too ambitious to be built, but existed as inspirational proposals and live on in the imagination. For Terryglass Arts Festival 2014, Joy will make an actual artwork; ‘Permanent Rainbow’ on the lake. This will be accompanied by a publication about the making the rainbow and of the ideas behind the imaginary works.

Ruth Castle – “Lost Pastures: A Series of Paintings and Drawings of Horses”

Terryglass National School

Opening Hours

– 11.00am –

5.00pm daily

Adm: Free

Ruth Castle is an Irish born artist now living in the north of England with a background in craft, painting and sculpture. Her current body of work explores the detailed complexity of the art of painting and drawing horses. Her love of horses started as a youngster growing up in North Tipperary, where her family kept horses, ponies and donkeys, among other animals.

The artist comments that “I have been drawing and painting all my life but horses are by far the most difficult subject matter I have ever encountered; it is a real challenge!” The work in this exhibition shows her determination to draw out the spirit of these magnificent animals.

Gerardine Wisdom – “Elemental”

Terryglass Quay

Adm: Free

Gerardine is a locally based artist who has won numerous awards for her work including first prizes in the RDS National Crafts Competitions. Gerardine works with rushes she picks from the lake, making artworks with an aquatic theme. Her floating figures are well known on Lough Derg including The Mermaid, Equus and The Lough Keeper.

For 2014, Gerardine explores ideas of joining fire and water, so keep an eye at the quay for developments!

Further information is available from the box office during the festival.

Festival Workshop programme – Don't Forget to check out our exciting workshop programme!

8.00pm The Year of the Moving Statues Terryglass Hall Adm:€10

The Rural Vernacular Company presents "The Year of the Moving Statues", a play by Gerry Conneely.

"The Year of the Moving Statues" is a satire on the nation's tendency towards religious hysteria. Set in the fateful year of 1985, the year of the apparitions, the play explores not just religion but our attitude to money, drink, politics, agriculture and wet summers. It is wildly funny and wickedly surreal. To quote the writer "The Year of the Moving Statues represents the Irish mindset as it might have been painted by Salvador Dali."

The Rural Vernacular is a co-operative of theatrical practitioners formed to produce and develop "The Year of the Moving Statues".

THE YEAR OF THE MOVING STATUES

The show has performed to excited acclaim at the Mick Lally Theatre and at The Town Hall Theatre in Galway. The co-operative is managed by producer Colmcille Donnelly and writer/director Gerry Conneely. The Rural Vernacular Company has developed two plays on the great wave of change that has engulfed Ireland since the seventies.

"The Road to Clare" was produced at the Druid Lane Theatre in 2006 and the current show, "The Year of the Moving Statues" is the second in the series. Two other shows dealing with the Celtic Tiger and, then, it's aftermath, are planned for 2015.

The productions highlight the extraordinary social and cultural changes by using the Rural Vernacular, a language that encompassed the excitement and humour of public discourse in pre-industrial Ireland and which has now almost disappeared.

Síofra Village Square 11.00am - 5.00pm daily Adm:Free

Síofra

Earlier this year, Síofra, created with rushes from the lake by local artist Gerardine Wisdom, was sent on her travels seeking out emigrants from the local area who have taken up residence in various parts of the world. Each recipient was invited to give Síofra an insight into their lives and capture this in a digital image.

The resultant exhibition will give the viewer an insight into the many and varied experiences of our diaspora from those who left decades ago to our recent wave of departures. The exhibition will run in a specially created micro-theatre located in the village square.

1pm Jazz in the afternoon with Ursula Connolly

Riverrun Cottages Adm: €8

Terryglass Arts Festival is delighted to have Ursula perform at the festival. Born in Dublin to a musical family, Ursula began performing as part of a Folk trio with her sisters Inez and Rita, at a young age. Ursula joined 'The Fallen Angels' a female cappella foursome and toured extensively. The Fallen Angels released an album called 'Happy Ever After' on which Ursula sang the title track and wrote one of only 2 original songs on the album, 'Virtual Strangers', which was later renamed 'African Sunset' on her debut solo album. In 2000, Ursula released the self-financed debut album entitled 'Picture of Myself' which was co-written and produced by her brother Peter Connolly. The album received excellent reviews. Ursula has recently returned to her first love, Jazz, and has been performing a lively set of Jazz and Swing tunes combined with a selection of original songs which have been written by or co-written with her brother.

Terryglass Arts Festival presents

Jimmy MacCarthy

8.00pm Terryglass Church Adm: €25

One of Ireland's foremost songwriters, Jimmy MacCarthy returns to performing with his 'Prophecy / Conspiracy?' tour. Having worked with major Irish artists such as Christy Moore, Mary Black, Mary Coughlan and Maura O'Connell and released four albums of his own, Jimmy's Prophecy/Conspiracy? tour will pay homage to old favourites such as 'Neidin', while introducing more recent work such as 'Andalucian Gray', 'Children of Mile', and 'Prophecy / Conspiracy?'. Jimmy has written most well known songs in the Irish folk and contemporary repertoire such as 'No Frontiers', 'Missing you', 'Ride On', 'Katie', 'The Bright Blue Rose', 'The Contender', 'Mystic Lipstick', 'Song of the Singing Horseman' and many more.

Christopher MacCarthy Wall, Jimmy's nephew, joined the tour in February 2014, and will be accompanying him during the Terryglass Arts Festival. Chris brings an exciting new dimension to the tour, a former member of 'Air Traffic' a band signed with EMI, who appeared on Later with Jools Holland and supported Snow Patrol on their UK Arena Tour.

A native of Macroom, Co. Cork, Jimmy MacCarthy was singing in pubs and busking from an early age. His first single 'Miles of Eyes' was released in 1981, followed by 'Like in the Movies', and 'Adam at the Window'. From there he went on to release four albums of his own 'The Dreamer', 'Song of the Singing Horseman', 'The Moment' and his most recent album 'Hey Ho Believe' in 2010. Jimmy is delighted to perform at the Terryglass Arts Festival as part of his nationwide tour, which has included sell out performances in the National Concert Hall, Dublin, The Cork Opera House and Vicar St, Dublin.

Workshop Descriptions

The Terryglass Arts Festival is well known for its quality participative arts programme. We have programmed a range of workshops which we know you will enjoy and maybe discover a new hobby in the process. These are some of the highlights but we have produced a full day by day schedule of over 50 workshops. Go on.... have a go at something you have never tried before. Remember booking is advised – places are limited and sell out fast.

Poi Spinning

Poi spinning is a performance art which involves swinging weights through rhythmical and geometric patterns. Sara will show you how to wow your friends and maybe inspire you to become a fire performer!

Cupcake Decorating

Express your creativity with coloured frosting and decorations and bring something delicious home to your family.

Jewellery workshop with BGB Jewellery Design

Make a unique piece of jewellery using beads and your imagination!

Pen and Ink Drawings

You do not need any experience to join in this relaxed exploration of colour washes and ink effects.

Discover Gravestone Symbols

What do the symbols on gravestones really mean? Explore the symbols on the crosses and gravestones in Terryglass Graveyard by taking rubbings and discussing them with expert Colm Hardy.

Theatre Tots

Carol Brophy of Legends and Lore Theatre Company will show pre-school children (ages 2-4) how to use their own voices and imaginations to bring magic to a story. Parents must stay with children during workshop. Strictly over 2 years of age.

Coderdojo

Ever think 'there should be an app for that'? Well now you can create one of your own! Develop your skills from last years workshop at the festival or learn how to start building an app with easy to use MIT educational software. Bring your own laptop

Mindmapping For Storytelling

Do you have a story to develop? Do you want to set a lot of ideas down and decide which are more important to your story? Or do you just want to learn how to organise ideas or make better decisions? Mindmapping can help with all these things and more, so come along and learn this very useful skill.

Woodturning

Another opportunity to do this very popular workshop in which you can explore this ancient craft in a small group with expert woodturner, Thomas Adlum. Participants will make and take away their own unique piece. Sign up early – only 5 participants per class.

The Gingerbreadman

Festival Marquee Adm: €5 per child

The Gingerbreadman with Miriam Lambert Puppets

"Run, run as fast as you can, you can't catch me I'm the Gingerbreadman". In this rendition of the age-old tale Miriam, using herself as a humanette, bakes the gingerbread. The freshly baked biscuit runs, eluding the hungry grasp of everyone-until he meets a very clever fox.

3.30pm & 5.15pm Buí Bolg presents

"The Jousts"

Village Square

A mysterious Queen finds life uninteresting until she is wooed by two unsuspecting knights in shining armour. They battle it out to see who will win her dainty hand. Two knights on horseback, one minstrel and the mysterious Queen canter along the streets and stop occasionally to perform their tale.

4pm-6pm

Music with Mikey and the Scallywags

The Village Green Free Event

Formed in June of 2010, Mikey and the Scallywags met on the streets of Galway and are still based on the west coast of Ireland. Renowned for their energetic and engaging live performances, the initial quartet of guitar, banjo, fiddle and double bass were joined by drums and keys to create a melodic and beat driven sound with elements of bluegrass, gypsy, hip-hop and swing.
